Dear Parents and Carers

We have now come to the final day of the half term. School will be closed next week and will re-open to key worker pupils on Monday, 22nd February.

Thank you so much for your patience, support and feedback since the new year began. I am hopeful that we are moving towards a return to normality.

We continue to receive so many kind messages and emails from parents. It really does make the staff feel appreciated when parents share with us these positives. Thank you so much.

It may well be that school announcements are made next week. Please do not worry about how as a school we will manage school reopening - as and when it arrives. We will always share with you our plans as best we can. Most importantly for all of us, please take some rest.

I have never been so proud of our children as I am now, and it is more important than ever they relax and enjoy less screen time over the next week. On a personal note I remain grateful but also humbled by the support you as parents have given to our school over the past year. We will endeavour not to let you down.

As St Teresa said:

Have a peaceful and safe half term break.

Yours sincerely

Ms. S. Geddis
